

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of developing growth of <111> crystal texture within at least one layer of composition of a magnetic memory cell. The method is comprised of applying the at least one layer of composition with a level of ion that is sufficiently high to enable alignment of the at least one layer of composition to a high degree of quality for the <111> crystal texture.

10

15

H:\FILES\20000\20374\20374-App-final.doc